

Environmental Essentials: Expanding throughout the UK

Extension to accreditation enables regional offices to flourish

Asbestos management and training consultants Environmental Essentials, are celebrating 6 years of trading after successfully achieving accreditation for their North East office in Gateshead. The company now provides accredited inspection and testing services from each of their existing offices in Stoke-on-Trent, Glasgow and Newcastle-upon-Tyne and currently employs over 70 staff nationwide.

Due to recent successes in the social Housing sector and the development of existing relationships in Educational and Private sectors, Environmental Essentials are expanding their operations in the North East and Scotland by recruiting further locally based personnel to join our existing experienced and committed teams.

Director James Riley said "Despite the difficult economic climate, we see the investment in regional offices as the most effective manner in which to develop our business whilst replicating the excellent culture and services we continue to provide from our Head office in the Midlands, for our valued clientele in the North of the UK."

Recent success in securing large contracts in the Healthcare and Housing sectors in the North West has seen Environmental Essentials open up a Bolton office in October 2010, and they have a further office in North Wales planned for the Autumn of 2010.
